About MR Presentations

To inspire a listener, professional speakers should be great communicators and entertainers that can interact with their audience to provide an informative and entertaining experience.

Whether you require a motivational speaker, Master of Ceremonies (MC), trainer or workshop and forums presenter, we have a professional, efficient and entertaining speaker for your requirements.

The principal of MR Presentations, Malcom Riley has had 9 years experience as a keynote speaker and has a solid network of speaking professionals ready to ignite the fire at your next event.

About our Principal

Malcom has created a niche position as an acclaimed and recognised key note speaker locally, nationally and overseas.

He uses his own real life experiences and humour to deliver serious messages on his primary area of expertise, Real Estate, as well as business-related issues such as the management of staff and how to deal with difficult people.

Drawing upon his speaking and conference experiences, Malcom can design a session for a varied range of audiences.

"Bloody brilliant!!!" "A Fantastic Session – very informative – very funny" "Excellent Speaker – with Great Humour"

These are just some of the words of praise from delegates who have heard Malcom Riley's presentations on diverse topics at conferences around Australia and even in America.

In all cases, Malcom's presentations have been acclaimed as thought provoking as well as educational, thanks to his training qualifications. Clear proof of his success is the fact he has been invited back to address the same organisations and conferences many times.
